NFIP Transformation Task Force Update

February 19, 2016

FEMA's top priority is to support disaster survivors and help communities recover from the devastating effects of disasters. To accomplish this mission, FEMA is making significant improvements to the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) to better serve policyholders who experience loss from flooding.

We are overhauling and realigning our entire organization to improve the customer experience. FEMA's vision for reform is a broad effort that emphasizes the principles of trust, predictability, value and choice for the policyholder.

An NFIP Transformation Task Force is focusing on these improvements, including the need for increased oversight of the program, enhanced education and training, strengthened data gathering and analysis capabilities and an improved customer experience.

The Task Force also provides a process in which Hurricane Sandy survivors who have not pursued litigation can have their claims reviewed promptly if they feel they were underpaid. While not every claim reviewed results in a determination of underpayment, additional payments are being made to policyholders whose claim review do show underpayment.

FEMA is committed to ensuring we pay every policyholder what they are due under their policy. Flood insurance plays a critical role in assisting survivors on their road to recovery. Like other types of insurance, it does not cover all losses but it is the first line of defense against a flood.

Claims Review

October 15 was the last day for policyholders to request a review of their Sandy NFIP claim through the Hurricane Sandy Claims Review. The review process continues for roughly 16,000 policyholders.

As of February 18, within the Sandy Claims Review, 3,326 claims have been closed with claims paid totaling $21,612,180 to 1,425 policyholders.

NFIP-certified adjusters are focused on ensuring they have the necessary information to review submitted claims. They reach out to each policyholder assigned to them every 14 days, to provide status updates, seek additional documentation if warranted, and to answer policyholder questions.

After FEMA and the policyholder reach agreement on the results of the claim review, FEMA directs the NFIP insurer to issue a check in the name of the policyholder, including any loss payee (attorney of record, mortgage company, etc.). FEMA is required by law to include on checks the names of those with secured interests. The policyholder is responsible for negotiating with lienholders regarding the distribution of funds.

To protect their personal information, FEMA requires all NFIP policyholders in the Hurricane Sandy Claims Review to provide a written document to verify their identity before the review of their claim begins. This added level of protection will help keep safe personal information and will comply with the federal Privacy Act (5 USC 552a).

"FEMA's mission is to support our citizens and first responders to ensure that as a nation we work together to build, sustain, and improve our capability to prepare for, protect against, respond to, recover from, and mitigate all hazards."

The document must contain full name, current address, date and place of birth, and be signed and notarized, or signed with the following language as a substitute for notarization: “I declare, under penalty of perjury, that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed on (date). (Signature of policyholder).”

FEMA recognizes that a policyholder may choose to be represented in the review process. If so, FEMA must ensure that a representative is appropriately designated and authorized to speak for and receive information on behalf of the policyholder. Policyholders who want to have legal representation for the process will need to complete a designation of representation.

Some policyholders may want to review their flood insurance claim file. FEMA will process claim file requests from a policyholder or the policyholder’s designated representative under the Privacy Act and the Freedom of Information Act. Policyholders may provide their verification of identity in the same letter used to designate a representative and/or to request a copy of their claim file, as long as the letter is properly signed and notarized (or sworn).

Several nonprofit service providers offer free advice and answer questions for policyholders in the claims process. A list of these advocacy groups can be found on the claims review website at www.fema.gov/sandyclaims.

Litigation

Policyholders dissatisfied with the NFIP payments they received after Hurricane Sandy had the option of filing an administrative appeal with FEMA or filing a lawsuit in U.S. District Court. Some did both. Approximately 2,000 policyholders filed litigation against NFIP insurers over their Sandy flood insurance claims in Federal District courts of New York and New Jersey.

Of the 1,695 eligible cases, 1,437 cases have been settled, with checks issued totaling $142,109,023 as of February 18.

Transformation

We are overhauling and realigning our entire organization to improve the customer experience. FEMA’s vision for reform is a broad effort that emphasizes the principles of trust, predictability, value and choice for the policyholder.

FEMA’s NFIP Transformation Task Force is developing options to reform the NFIP, including the need for increased oversight, enhanced education and training, strengthened data gathering and analysis capabilities, and a greater customer orientation for the NFIP.

As part of the reform, FEMA has commissioned a study to determine the best way to implement NFIP reforms for a survivor-centric vision, mission and approach.

The National Academy of Sciences (NAS) has conducted and delivered part two of an affordability study. FEMA will deliver a framework for affordability within 18 months of the NAS study’s completion.

FEMA aligned its call center to better support NFIP policyholders with the servicing of their claims and getting answers to their questions quickly by calling 1-800-621-3362 Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. (Select Option 2). Call center staff are available to assist policyholders with information regarding their policy, offer technical flood guidance to aid in recovery, and respond to general as well as complicated questions about the NFIP. Policyholders with questions specifically about an insurance claim can be transferred to their insurance carrier for additional assistance.

Policyholders may download a Request for Support form from www.fema.gov/national-flood-insurance-program-technical-support-hotline and email it to FEMA-NFIP-Support@fema.dhs.gov or fax it to 540-504-2360. The center also is available to the public and insurance agents who have questions about the NFIP.

FEMA has issued guidance to the Write Your Own (WYO) insurance companies that sell and service Standard Flood Insurance Policies to follow FEMA’s survivor-centric customer service approach.

FEMA will review and approve all proposed engineering costs to ensure that WYOs are fulfilling their role by guaranteeing that taxpayer funds are being appropriately expended and work is consistent with putting policyholders first.

FEMA has commissioned a study to look at surge staffing so that we can develop a plan to have enough qualified adjusters in the field following a large event to more efficiently serve policyholders.

FEMA introduced advance payments of up to $10,000 pre-inspection to put money into the hands of policyholders to enable them to start the process of recovery more quickly. Almost 20 percent of policyholders in the severe storms that hit South Carolina, Virginia, and North Carolina received advance payments.

The Task Force is working with nonprofit organizations, advocacy groups, community officials, insurance companies, industry experts and Congressional staff, among others, to improve NFIP processes.

The NFIP is soliciting input from the Government Accountability Office (GAO), which performed objective reviews of the NFIP, serving as an independent, nonpartisan agency working for the U.S. Congress.
